

WHAT IS MEMRISE? Memrise is a website for computers and an app for smartphones. It is an easy and free way to study vocabulary. It is like modern-day flashcards, except it can include pictures, audio, matching, and unscrambling. It can track the words you have difficulty with and make them appear more so that you practice them more. I have used all the language apps- Rosetta Stone, Duolingo, Quizlet, and Anki, among others- and I find memrise to be the best. (Quizlet is a very close 2nd though!)

 - a. On iPhones there is sometimes no red "login with Google+" button, so you have 2 choices:
 - i. Login normally using your chatham email and password
 - ii. Make a separate account for your phone
- 5. You're good to go! Your phone will mirror all the memrise courses and progress you have on your computer.
 - a. Note: you cannot start new memrise courses from your phone, you need to hit "learn" on your computer and then they will show up on your phone.
 - b. Note: iPhones and other apple devices sometimes cannot play audio. If this happens to you, please just use a computer instead.

HOW CAN I PROVE I COMPLETED MY MEMRISE HOMEWORK?

- If you have the app on your phone, you can screenshot the course. It will tell me how many words you have done. Email me the screenshot at luttingerf@chatham.k12.ny.us.
- 2. On a PC, you can simply email me a picture. Open up gmail and compose a new message. Then, go to memrise and hit the print screen button on your PC. Then, paste that screenshot into the body of the email with ctrl+v. Send the email.
